more value from your processes and applications

How would you like to maximise the value of your technology investments, foster user adoption and help teams manage processes more efficiently?

If you have complex processes or expensive business applications, chances are the answer is yes. The good news is that achieving these outcomes is easier than you might expect.

To get the most from your applications and processes, you need to get more from your users. PerformancePlus is the end-to-end embedded application support tool that makes this happen.

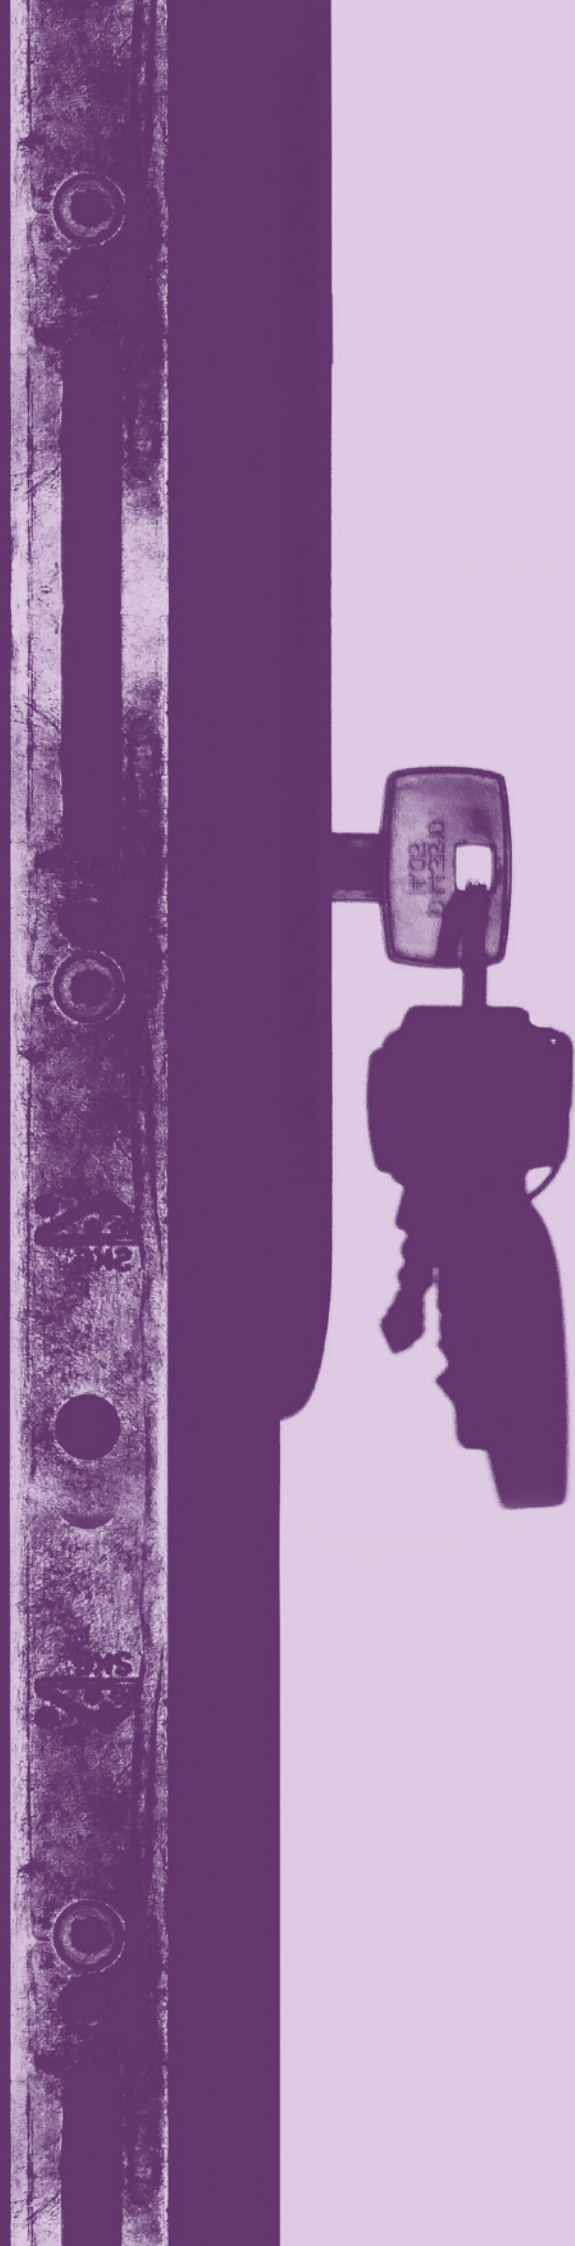

PerformancePlus encourages users to interact with applications and processes in the right way. It's a rapid adoption solution that helps users navigate complex transactions, processes and workflows.

With PerformancePlus, you can:

- Document applications and processes with speed and ease
- Access real-time performance support from any application
- Create and share processes across locations and teams
- Streamline end of year processes, records management and record capture.

How it works

PerformancePlus is an easy-to-use tool that works with any application or process. Built on familiar Microsoft products like Word and Paint, it documents applications up to 90 percent faster than other tools.

What is PerformancePlus?

PerformancePlus has three main components:

PerformancePlus Author

PerformancePlus Author captures work processes and functions. With a powerful screen capture engine, it follows activities work processes to generate detailed screen captures and instructions. Once captured, you can use this content to create in-depth Word and PDF documents and video demos.

PerformancePlus Publisher

PerformancePlus Publisher oversees and manages all captured and documented content. It lets users manage content at all stages – from work in progress, editing and QA through to publishing and release. Publisher also manages document lifespan. It tells you the age of each document, how often it is accessed and when it was last updated – so you always know which information is the most up-to-date. With a web-based dashboard and suite of admin tools, Publisher makes it simple to manage content, users and contributors. This includes content authors and QA teams reviewing the raw documentation.

PerformancePlus Advisor

Need help using an application or navigating a process? PerformancePlus Advisor is at your service. As the delivery mechanism for performance support, Advisor ensures that help is only two clicks away. Users can access contextual support like documents and interactive videos without leaving the application.

Why does this matter? In our experience, users are unlikely to search through a mass of documentation, hoping to find the right one for the task they need to Complete. Advisor makes this information immediately available, with no need to search or verify that it's the correct option.

Why choose PerformancePlus?

On-demand availability

Like a GPS, PerformancePlus knows exactly where you are in a process or application. By following you as you move through the application, PerformancePlus is always ready to provide relevant and useful guidance.

Support when you need it

Forget waiting for subject matter experts. In just two clicks, PerformancePlus gives you immediate assistance so you can resolve problems and get back to work faster.

Consistent delivery

With PerformancePlus, you can be confident that key messages and behaviours aren't diluted over time. You'll always have access to the latest and most relevant support information, managed by strict admin controls.

Tailored to your system configuration

Some performance support tools only provide a generic vendor's view of a system, which isn't useful for customised environments. With PerformancePlus, you see what your end-users see, including custom configurations.

Flexible across applications

PerformancePlus works with almost any Windows or web-based application.

How PerformancePlus can help you?
