Time-consuming audits with manual workflows to track compliance.	Auto-compliance achieved on filing with built-in compliance reporting. Provide instant access to previous audits and reports with automated workflows.
No audit trail to track who did what.	Know what files are being created by whom, which files will be deleted soon, and more metadata-based queries.
Multiple versions of the same policy documents.	In-built versioning to see the policy's latest copy.
Constant management of user resistance to using complicated and inconvenient systems.	Ease of user adoption with enhanced change management frameworks.
